

ARCHIV SPOLICY

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- A. PURPOSE
- B. SCOPE
- C. DEFINITIONS
- D. POLICYSTATEMENTS

Employee(s): All Douglas College staff and faculty members, administrators ant dactors.

Preservation: Storing and protecting Recoadsainst damage and eterioration.

Record(s): Information created, received and maintained as evidence and as(s)sbytan organization or person, in pursuit of legal obligations or in the transaction of business.

RecordValues:

Administrative value: Records that provide information on former activities and the cisions to provide background information, to establish the existence of a precedent or to substantiate or refute a claim or allegation.

Evidentialvalue: The capacity of archival documents to provide information about their creator's activities.

Financial value: Decumentary evidence of the way in which monies were obtained, planned, allocated, controlled and expended.

Historical value: Records at provide the memory of the activities of the organization.

Informational value: The capacity of archival documents to provide information about the persons, places, and subjects of which the persons.

Legal value: Recordshich will provide the source of the authority for actions taken by DouglasCollegeandshowevidenceof title, contractualobligations, duties and privileges.

D. POLIC'STATEMENTS

- 1. TheDouglaSollegeArchives is the official repository for the College's Records of continuing value. Records of continuing value that are no longer required by the creating office are transferred to the custody of the College Archive which is responsible for managing and preserving those Records on behalf of Douglas Collegency Records reated or compiled in the course of lege business are the property of the ollege All Records created by Employees f Douglas Collegend selected for permanent retention for their archival value bound be kept in the Archise ogether with anyother material considered to of historical value. The college will make every effort to preserve its Records n auseable format so that they are readily accessible for future use.
- 2. The Douglas Colleg&rchives identifies, acquires, ranges, describes, preserversd makes available those Records that document the College's istorical development, institutional history and ongoing activities. The intent of preserving and protective gords of enduring values
 - a. to serve as Douglas College's institutionamory;
 - b. to provide the information necessary control establish continuity for future decision making and to permpt the total and total and to permpt the total and to permpt the total and to permpt the total and total

3. The majority of Recordsreated, received

