

A: Division: Educational and Student Services

Date: 24 January, 1994.

Department: Student Affairs and Developmental Education Location: New Course:

Program: _____

Calendar of Course: _____

Information Form: X Dec 27 88

Intermediate Reading for Students of
as a second language

E: 3

C: EASL 165

D: Lower

F: _____

Subject & Course No. _____

Description: _____

Summary of Revisions:

(Enter date & section)

F: Calendar Description: This is not a beginner's course, but it is the first in a 4-level series. The series is designed to lead up to college reading standards, to

Eg. Section C,E,F

Reading needs. A 165 is an advanced section course designed for the student who has already

(Use Photographic Form)

Students must supply a means of identifying their name and number.

Students may be required to purchase a text.

Instructional Objectives

General Program Objectives

Course Objectives

R: Course Content

O: Method of

O: Course Instruction

Course Evaluation

R: Course

COURSE OBJECTIVES

GENERAL COURSE

Within relevant educational, employment and social contexts, students who u ter this course will be able to

With mas

materials without recourse to translation or to the dictionary.

selected

P. COURSE CONTENT

- ESL material such as simplified versions of famous books, readers
- Westcoast Reader heavily illustrated magazines such as National Geographic newspaper headlines, picture captions and short items (possibly) adapting to the level of comprehension reading material such as...