

B. COURSE CONTENT

Continues the study of the language functions and forms common to 352 and the prerequisite 344.

a. language functions, such as reporting, disagreeing, expressed in different ways in a variety of settings, especially problem situations.

live, natural signals, such as reporting, disagreeing, expressed in different ways in a variety of settings, especially problem situations.