

Student Services

Date: October, 1993

A: Division: Educational and S

Course: X

B: Department: Student Services and Developmental Education

New Co

Program:

Division: Student Information Form

C: EASL 495

D: EASL for Economics 101 Students

E: 3

Semester Credit

Subject & Course No

Description

F: Calendar Description: This course is an adjunct course. Summer

In Economics 101 Students: For EASL students enrolled will develop language and study skills to support their

NAME AND NUMBER

NAME AND NUMBER

Textbooks and Materials Author, Publisher, Year

Economics 101 course text and other materials will be used.

Form with Entries Under the Following Headings: O. Course Objectives; C. Course Content; M. Method of Instruction; E. Evaluation

Complete

