

Date: October 1999

A: Division: Instruction

Business Admin. New Course Revision: BY R1 Department: Commerce & Business Administration Program Area: Commerce & Business Administration

If Revision, Section(s) Revised: Q

Date Last Revised: March 1998

C: ECON 111 D: Canadian Economic History

Descriptive Title: Subject & Course No. Semester Credits: 3 Subject & Course No.:

Calendar Description: Canada has developed from being a small number of isolated Maritime colonies into a modern economy. Special attention will be paid to Germany, Japan and the United States. This course examines that process since Confederation.

G: Allocation of Contact Hours to Types of Instruction/Learning Settings

H: Course Prerequisites:

Math 11. One course in Economics

Primary Methods of Instructional Delivery and/or Learning Settings:

I: Course Corequisites:

Lecture and Seminar

Nil

Number of Contact Hours: (per week/semester or each descriptor)

J: Course for which this Course is a prerequisite:

Lecture: 3 Hrs.

Nil

Seminar: 1 Hr.

Total: 4 Hrs. per week

K: Maximum Class Size:

Number of Weeks per Semester:

35

PLEASE INDICATE:

Non-Credit

College Credit-Non-Transfer

M. Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes:

At the end of the course, the student will be able to:
1. Describe the economic development of Canada both before and after Confederation.

2. Analyze the contributions and limitations of economic analysis to the understanding of the process of Canadian economic development.

3. Explain the economic history of the Maritimes and the rivalries among colonial powers in the North Atlantic region.

4. Discuss the early stages of the exploitation of renewable natural resources and the changing structure of the Canadian economy.

5. Analyze land policy and the development of agriculture, banking and capital markets before and after Confederation.

N. Course Content:

1. An introduction to the course

2. The economic history of the Maritimes and the rivalries among colonial powers in the North Atlantic region

3. The early stages of the exploitation of renewable natural resources

4. The changing structure of the Canadian economy

5. Land policy and the development of agriculture

6. Banking and capital markets before and after Confederation

